REVISION OF PRICES

The price of the combined trip has been calculated on the basis of the exchange rates, transport tariffs, cost of fuel or other sources of energy, and taxes and charges applicable on the date of publication of the programme/brochure or any subsequent ones that may have been made public, as the case may be.

Any variation in the price of the aforementioned elements may give rise to a revision of the final price of the trip, both upwards and downwards, after the conclusion of the contract in the strict amounts of the aforementioned variations.

After the conclusion of the contract, prices may only be changed upwards or downwards as a direct consequence of changes in:

- (a) the price of passenger transport resulting from the cost of fuel or other energy sources.
- (b) The level of taxes or charges on the travel services included in the contract, levied by third parties not directly involved in the performance of the package, including tourist, landing, embarkation or disembarkation taxes, fees and surcharges at ports and airports.
- (c) The currency exchange rates applicable to the package.

Similarly, the traveller is entitled to a reduction in the price for any reduction in the aforementioned costs occurring in the period between the conclusion of the contract and the start of the package - in which case the organiser is entitled to deduct the actual administrative costs from the refund due to the traveller. If the traveller so requests, the organiser must provide proof of these administrative costs.

These changes to the price of the holiday shall be notified to the traveller in a clear and comprehensible manner, with a justification for them and with their calculation on a durable medium, no later than 20 calendar days before the start of the package. Such a price change shall be calculated by adding/subtracting the increase/decrease in cost that has occurred to the price of the package.

If the aforementioned price increase exceeds 8% of the total package price, the traveller may, within a reasonable period specified by the organiser, accept the proposed change or terminate the contract without penalty.

THE PRICE INCLUDES

The trip specified in the itinerary with the guide/guides certified by the organiser, the accommodation in the hotels according to the specified category or similar and the taxes in the specified regime according to the brochure (on the web www.triumphadventure.es).

THE PRICE DOES NOT INCLUDE

Also not included are any additional charges that may be charged by some accommodations, directly at the destination, for additional services made available to the traveller, even if the traveller does not make use of them.

All services not included will be paid directly by the client.

In the event that the participant makes the trip with his own motorbike, the expenses arising from the same shall be borne exclusively by the customer, i.e. petrol, tolls or roadside assistance. In any case, the organiser will offer its help to continue the trip, but all costs will be borne by the customer.

If the client decides not to travel with their own motorbike, they may rent one from the Triumph Adventure Experience Spain fleet in accordance with the rates and conditions set out in the daily rental contract.

- This must be communicated to the organiser prior to the start of the tour and is subject to supplier availability at all times.

Triumph Adventure Experience Spain® will not refund the price of the trip if the client does not arrive or arrives too late at the start of the trip. The cancellation guarantee is only valid if the cancellation is made at the time of booking the trip, we cannot guarantee the cancellation guarantee if the insurance is taken out at a later time after the initial booking.

The organiser must perform all services in accordance with the information brochure. If it is not possible to do so, it will find ways to provide the specified services at no additional cost to the client by offering similar services. If the services are of a lower category, the difference will be reimbursed to the client.

13. TRIP MODIFICATIONS and SENDING OF PLACEMENTS

Triumph Adventure Experience Spain® undertakes to provide its clients with all the services contracted, with the conditions and characteristics stipulated in the programme/offer, all in accordance with the following points.

13.1 Modifications to the trip

a) The organiser reserves the right to unilaterally change any other clause of this contract, except in the case of changes to the price regulated by stipulation 8, provided that the change is not substantial and the traveller is informed of the change by the organiser in a clear, comprehensible and prominent manner on a durable medium.

b) If, before the start of the package, the organiser is forced to substantially change any of the main features of the travel services, is unable to meet any of the traveller's previously accepted special requirements or proposes to increase the price of the holiday by more than eight per cent in accordance with stipulation 8, the traveller may, within a reasonable period of 7 days, accept the proposed change or terminate the contract without paying a penalty.

c) The traveller who terminates the package travel contract may accept a substitute package offered by the Organiser, if possible of equivalent or superior quality.

d) The organiser must inform the traveller of this change without delay, in a clear, comprehensible and prominent manner on a durable medium, together with:

1. its impact on the price of the package when the modification results in a package of lower quality or cost.

2. A reasonable period of seven days within which the traveller must inform of his decision.

3. The indication that in the event that the traveller does not notify his decision within the period indicated in the previous paragraph, it will be understood that he chooses to terminate the contract without any penalty.

(e) In the event of termination of the package travel contract by the traveller before its commencement without payment of a penalty pursuant to point (b), or non-acceptance by the traveller of a substitute package, the organiser shall reimburse without undue delay all payments made by the traveller or by a third party on his behalf and in any event not later than fourteen calendar days from the date of termination of the contract.

13.2 Termination of the contract

The consumer has the right to withdraw from the package travel contract once the trip has begun, but may not claim a refund of the amounts paid and will continue to be obliged to pay the outstanding amounts.

If the withdrawal is due to an accident or illness of the consumer that prevents him from continuing the trip, the agency is obliged to provide the necessary assistance. There will be no duty of assistance when the defects produced during the execution of the contract are exclusively attributable to an intentional or negligent conduct of the consumer.

In both cases, all additional costs incurred as a result of the withdrawal, in particular repatriation or return to the place of origin, shall be borne by the consumer.

13.3 Transfer of the seat

The traveller may transfer the package travel contract to a third party, provided that the conditions applicable to this contract are met, by giving prior notice to the organiser, on a durable medium, at least seven calendar days before the start of the package travel. The transferor and the transferee shall be jointly and severally liable for the outstanding amount of the travel price as well as for any commission or surcharge and additional costs of the transfer. Such costs shall be reasonable and in any event shall not exceed the costs actually borne by the organiser as a result of the assignment.

The Organiser shall provide the transferor with evidence of any fees, surcharges or other additional costs arising from the transfer. The Organiser shall provide the transferor with proof of any commissions, surcharges or other additional costs arising from the transfer of the contract.

Where the type of fare, the characteristics of the means of transport to be used or the country to be visited make the assignment impossible, the organiser and the retailer may object to the assignment. The Organiser will indicate the option of transfer to a person indicated by the client with the corresponding penalty and in the event of not transferring the place, the cancellation costs will be indicated.

In all the situations indicated, the client will have to pay cancellation fees in accordance with the restrictive conditions of the services. Certain fares on our trips are non-refundable such as ferries, non-refundable airline tickets or hotel fares with cancellation fees at the time of booking confirmation (these will be communicated to the customer prior to the transfer).

We recommend that the client takes out cancellation insurance at the time of booking and travel insurance.
